

To Upload A Large Picture To The Internet

If you have a picture that is too large to email to people, or you would just like it hosted on the internet somewhere, you can use ImageShack's free image hosting service. To find out how follow these steps.

- 1) Go to the following website in your web browser: <http://www.imageshack.us>
- 2) On the page you will see this part of the page. Click the "Browse" button and choose the photo you would like to upload.

- 3) Put a tick in the "resize image?" box and drop down the selection box to choose what size you want the image resized too. 800x600 is okay for most situations.

- 4) Click the "Host It!" button and the picture will be uploaded to the web site.
- 5) You will be redirected to a new page which will give you a list of links which will take you to your picture. The one you want is the very bottom one which says "Direct Link To Image". Click in the box and it will highlight the link to the picture, and then press "Control C" to copy the address.
- 6) You can then use this address that you have copied to email people a direct link to your image.
